

Kevin Harris, R.N., Welcomed as New ICU Nurse Manager

The Administration of Cortland Regional Medical Center is pleased to announce the addition of Kevin Harris, R.N., to its nurse management team. Kevin is charged with the management and coordination of patient care on the intensive care (ICU) and telemetry units.

Kevin brings extensive nurse supervisor and staff experience to his new position. Prior to joining CRMC, he worked at University Hospital in Syracuse as an ICU Charge Nurse and Patient Support Leader for its seven ICU units.

Kevin began his nursing career at Cayuga Medical Center in Ithaca. Over a five-year span he served as ICU Charge Nurse, House Nursing Supervisor, and staff nurse in both the ICU and emergency room. While at CMCI, Kevin helped establish the Clinical Assessment Team, worked as the Stroke Program Coordinator, taught critical care and stroke courses, and assisted in the development of a therapeutic hypothermia program for stroke and cardiac arrest patients. He was also a member of the adjunct faculty of Tompkins Cortland Community College and served as a trainer/preceptor for new nurses and nursing students.

Kevin graduated from Tompkins Cortland Community College with an associate's degree in Nursing. He continued his education through the University of Phoenix, first earning his bachelors degree in Nursing. Kevin is currently working towards his master's degree in Healthcare Administration.

He presently makes his home in Freeville with his wife Leslie, who is also a registered nurse. They have a son, Isaac, and are expecting their second child in March.
