

Jamie Kabanuk Named CRN&RC Nurse Manager

The Administration of the Cortland Regional Nursing and Rehabilitation Center (CRN&RC) recently welcomed Jamie Kabanuk, R.N., to its management team. Jamie is the new nurse manager of Cedar Run, and is responsible for supervising staff and ensuring quality care for the residents of the 40-bed unit.

She brings considerable healthcare supervisory and staff experience to her new position. Just prior to joining CRN&RC, Jamie worked as a nurse manager at Crown Nursing & Rehabilitation Center in Cortland, where she oversaw medical/surgical and behavioral units. Her other experience includes a charge nurse position at Cayuga Medical Center in Ithaca and staff nurse at Upstate University Hospital in Syracuse. Jamie began her career at Cortland Regional Medical Center working as a staff nurse in the emergency room, ICU, and medical/surgical unit.

According to Jamie, her goal on Cedar Run is to “ensure patient satisfaction and a positive work environment for all, by building teamwork and giving exceptional care to our residents.”

Jamie attended Tompkins Cortland Community College and graduated with an associate’s degree in Nursing. She is presently working towards her RN-MSN in Nursing at SUNY Upstate Medical University in Syracuse.

She makes her home in Cortland with her husband Kurt. They have two children: Angelina and Alivia.
