Catherine Keating, M.D., Joins CRMC Medical Staff

Cortland Regional Medical Center is pleased to welcome Dr. Catherine I. Keating, Family Practice, to its Medical Staff and back to the Cortland community. Dr. Keating is employed by the Family Health Network of Central New York. She provides a full range of family medicine services, with particular interest in women's health issues including obstetric care. Dr. Keating is now accepting new patients at both her Marathon and Moravia offices. Appointments can be made with her by calling (607) 849-3271 or (315) 497-9066.

Dr. Keating arrived in Cortland from Syracuse after completing a three-year residency in family practice through St. Joseph's Hospital Health Center. Previous to that she earned her medical degree at SUNY-Upstate Medical University. While there Dr. Keating participated in the Rural Medical Education Program (RMED), a partnership between SUNY-UMU and Cortland Regional Medical Center, that provides a nine-month educational experience for medical students considering a primary care career in a rural setting.

"I chose to return to Cortland", said Dr. Keating, "based on positive prior experiences I had in the community while I was a medical student. Plus, I felt the position with the Family Health Network was a great match for me."

Born in East Nassau, NY, Dr. Keating received her bachelor's degree from Dartmouth College (Hanover, NH), and then began her training at Bryn Mawr College (PA) in the pre-medical program.

Dr. Keating's professional affiliations include membership in the American Academy of Family Physicians and the American Society for Colposcopy and Cervical Pathology. She is also a contributing author for a women's health textbook to be published this year.

Dr. Keating and her family make their home in Tully.
